

Managing online information

Activity 1 – Fake news article (A&B)

A) Young boy in critical condition after Apple AirPods explode in his ear

Written by Bob The Empire News Potato

A young boy in Florida has being hospitalised after his brand new Apple AirPod earphones allegedly exploded in his ear.

Caleb Mitchell, 8, has been hospitalised with 2nd degree burns on his face and inside of his ears after his Airpods exploded. According to Mitchell's parents, the young boy is lucky to be alive, but is not out of the woods yet.

"I can't believe something like this could happen," said Josiah Mitchell, a standup comedian and the boy's father. "I didn't think they could get hot or explode or anything like that. Yet hear we are. Get it? Hear? Because Caleb is pretty much deaf now. Oh s, I crack myself up."

Caleb supposedly always had his Airpods in his ear, other than the times where he was charging them. He would even sleep with them and wear them even when not listening to music. "Airpod owners are obsessed" says Candice James, a therapist, "Airpod owners really think they're hot s because their headphones don't have wires. Wow, you're so cool. I just feel bad for the boy here because his parents indoctrinated him into wanting these in the first place."

As Caleb is recovering, technology experts warn Airpod owners to not use them so much.

"Just throw them out," said tech expert Lee Xiu, "You'll be a better person, Airpod owners are annoying."

<https://empirenews.net/young-boy-in-critical-condition-after-apple-airpods-explode-in-his-ears/>

B) Man who bought a pair of dentures on shopping app WISH can suddenly speak chinese

Written by Bob The Empire News Potato

A Boston man, Arnold Richardson, said he didn't know what to do when his dentist told him that he was going to need a new set of custom dentures to replace the ones he's had the last 10 years.

"I was really put out, I can't afford that kind of thing on my salary," said Richardson, 46, a carpenter in the South End of Boston. "I really felt lost."

Richardson said that he scoped out the internet for the best deals and was surprised to find a set of dentures on the shopping website/app called Wish, which sells items at highly discounted rates, occassionally knock-offs, but almost always shipped from China.

I was hesitant, honestly, because you hear about toys and other items coming from China and they've been painted with old, lead-ridden paint or something like that, but really, it was all I could afford."

After waiting 6-8 weeks for his dentures, Richardson said he was "very surprised" to find that they fit perfectly, and even more surprised that when he put them in his mouth, he automatically began speaking Chinese.

<https://empirenews.net/man-who-bought-a-pair-of-dentures-on-shopping-app-wish-can-suddenly-speak-chinese/>

Managing online information

Activity 1 – Fake news article (C)

MISSING PERSON

Please help bring Jessica home. For any Information that could help is find her,
Please contact her family.

PLEASE SHARE!

C) Facebook user

Shared post:

This is Jessica Burrows. She was last seen near the Lincoln area. She's five years old, brown cropped hair and dark blue eyes. If you have any information about her disappearance, please contact her family to help bring her home. PLEASE SHARE!